

Our Mission Statement

Inspired by our patron
Francis of Assisi, we seek to proclaim the reign of God by growing in Holiness through our experience of Christ in word, sacrament and one another, offering Hope to those who hunger for human dignity, and extending Hospitality to all.

All Masses, meetings, gatherings, and events are cancelled until further notice.

This includes daily and weekend Masses as well as confessions

We invite you to watch our live online streaming of Sunday, 9:30 am Mass

Here is an update on our plans for the church over the next several weeks. As you know we have been very cautious – I have been very cautious – based on information about the virus, and based on cautions about bringing groups together. Our approach here during this time of pandemic has been to livestream every Sunday, with a maximum of around 12 people present in the church as liturgical ministers and technicians. We believe this is working well for us, even though we're aware that it's not the same as having people in the church.

Our plan at this time is, beginning next Sunday July 19, we will have a group of no more than 20 first communion children, and their parents, present in the church for our 9:30 Mass. This means 60 people + ministers and technicians, so around 75 people at the max. We will have strict guidelines in place: masks, distancing, no singing, communion in the hand only.

Our task force, which is made up of staff members plus medical professionals, has worked hard on preparing the way for us to have these kinds of celebrations. As always, this plan could change depending on how things go with the virus. Also, please note that no matter what happens, we will continue to livestream, as many people have commented that they are not ready to come back to the church building and this is a good way for people to stay connected. We will see how this goes next Sunday and then look further out into July and August, and look into the possibility of expanding into a model of having mass with some people inside, and some people outside in the columbarium garden. We will keep you informed.

On a pastoral note, I know that these have been very strange and difficult times to navigate for many people. Our whole understanding of "going to church" has changed. Our whole understanding of sacraments has changed. These times invite us to go deeper into our Christian tradition. We believe in a God who became human, lived among us, and experienced everything of what it means to be human. God looks upon us, and as a poet once wrote, said "Let me go there." It's human life as a place where God seeks to dwell.

And these times we're in invite us to ask, can we see that? Can we recognize in the joys and struggles of our times as the place where God lives and dreams God's dream for all humanity? Can we recognize that God seeks to be known in the everyday stuff of life? We find God in the simple and ordinary form of bread, and we have not been able to receive that bread for several months now. Can our longing for the Eucharist, in this time of absence, become a longing for God's justice and peace and kindness and mercy in a world that cries out for it?

It's not the same as receiving holy communion on a Sunday morning at church. It does not replace that. But that's where we find ourselves in these days. Let me say thank you to all the faithful members of St. Francis who continue to support our parish in these times. And let me say also that we continue to look into what is best for the parish in any decisions we make, and will keep you informed along the way.

A few other things as we move into mid-July: the friars' last weekend is Sunday, August 30 and there are plans underway for a virtual farewell on that Sunday morning. Also, please be watchful for scam emails that are going around in my name. If you have any question at all about an email you receive from me or from anyone on staff here, please call to make sure. Please also know that we have members of our staff and volunteers who are making phone calls to check in on members of the parish. And finally, thank you to all who continue to support our parish financially. We are deeply grateful.

Blessings on your week!

We Feel Your Presence

More than ever, we are so grateful for our St. Francis Family. We want each of you to know that being a part of this big beautiful family is so much more than filling out a registration form.

While COVID 19 has prevented us from being together around the communion table, we feel your presence. The stewardship office had to cancel Welcome Events in March, April and May but we have not forgotten that we invited you into this family and we hope that each of you will become an active part of our Church Community. That being said, we have decided to conduct a virtual welcome event for all our new members, returning members or maybe those who want to recommit to this family. This welcome will include a message from our pastor and each of our directors and will also include important information about our parish history and a virtual tour of our church.

If you would like more information about how to participate, please contact the Director of Stewardship, Deb Royals Mizerk by email: deb.royals-mizerk@stfrancisraleigh.org. You can also go to the Sign Up Genius and register directly: https://www.signupgenius.com/go/5080848a8af2da1f85-virtual1

To volunteer: www.bit.ly/SFA-BTSSdrive2020 We encourage every member of our St. Francis family to prayerfully consider the gifts of time, talent and financial support that you might be able to give back to God through our parish. As Christians, we are all called to be stewards of the gifts God gives to us so we can continue to build His Church. We are glad you're here!

If you have not registered or signed up for a Welcome Event – that's okay. Please complete the registration form online: https://www.stfrancisraleigh.org/register or you can print the form and send it in to us by mail. Address: 11401 Leesville Road, Raleigh NC 27613. Attention: Deb Royals Mizerk.

JUSTICE AND PEACE MINISTRIES

We are proposing two dates in August where we can gather virtually via Zoom to discuss some of what we learning through our reading and watching. These books and films have not been officially approved by the Catholic Church for content. We are inviting the community to read them in light of the gospel (and Catholic Social Teaching) and come for a facilitated conversation about their content.

Book Discussion August 10th 7pm-8:30pm

Read one or more of the following books and come ready to discuss what moved you, challenged you, made you think twice? What did you learn? How are you feeling now? How did it inspire you to work towards dismantling the sin of racism?

- Bryan Stevenson, Just Mercy: Story of Justice and Redemption
- Michelle Alexander, The New Jim Crow: Mass Incarceration in the Age of Colorblindness
- Ta-Nehisi Coates, Between the World and Me
- Bryan Massingale, Racial Justice and the Catholic Church
- Debby Irving, Waking Up White: And Finding Myself in the Story of Race
- · Angie Thomas, The Hate U Give

Film Discussion August 20th 7pm-8:30pm

Watch one or more of the following films and come ready to discuss what moved you, challenged you, made you think twice? What did you learn? How are you feeling now? How did it inspire you to work towards dismantling the sin of racism?

- Just Mercy
- The Hate U Give
- 13th
- I am Not Your Negro
- Selma
- · The Best of Enemies

Continuing our Prayer, Learning, and Action for Racial Healing and Justice

The Office of Justice and Peace

In the fall of 2018, the US Bishops published a pastoral letter on the sin of racism in our country, saying in that document that "racism still profoundly affects our culture, and it has no place in the Christian heart." The bishops spoke about individual racism and systemic racism being part of the story. It is the latter version of racism that many of us are waking up to in new and challenging ways over the last weeks. There are films to watch, books to read, news programs to engage in, podcasts to listen to, people to be in dialogue with, and more. It can be overwhelming and confusing to take it all in, but it also can be an enlightening time, one where we grow in faith, hope, and love and in our commitment to justice and peace. Our Office of Justice and Peace have a couple ways we will continue our learning conversation around this topic. Certainly, our current moment calls our attention in magnified way right here, right now. We hope to see you at the following opportunities to gather (virtually).

PARISH LIFE MINISTRIES

Summer Camp at Home:

Are you looking for activities and ideas to keep your children engaged, creative and happy during the summer? We are putting together a list of ideas that may keep your children entertained and help serve others as well.

As I mentioned in previous bulletins, we are all in this together and I want to do my best to help support each other as we work through all of this. So, send me links and fun activities over the summer that you and your kids find as fun summer fillers! It can be a craft, an activity, a new snack or meal recipe you tried or a great book or movie to check out!

Send all ideas to me at Ashley. Watson@stfrancisraleigh.org. As I receive resources, I will share them with you all at: https://www.stfrancisraleigh.org/camp-francis/
Stay safe and stay healthy and let's have a fun summer together!

Parish Staff Wellness Calls

Parish Life staff members are still calling to check in with parishioners to see how you're doing! We're calling from our cell phones, but we will identify ourselves and will leave you a message, and we'll try back again. Please know that these calls are our way of saying you are important to us and we're here if you need anything!

Planning a wedding can be the most exciting time of your life. There are so many choices and so many people to consider, it's easy to forget that the most important part of the whole process isn't the wedding at all – it's the marriage. When the cake has been cut, the gifts unwrapped and the guests have gone home, it's just two folks trying to figure how to tackle life together and how to grow with one another.

But it doesn't always work out. And when it doesn't work out, again, there are so many choices and so many people to consider that it's easy to forget that those two people are still pretty important and need to be considered. And these same two folks need to figure out how to unravel all the things they have built up, and just like a wedding, the divorce is just the starting point for the rest of your life.

If you have recently gone through a divorce, hopefully there are supportive family and friends to help, but even family and friends may not be able to listen to all you have to say. In divorce, it's common to feel isolated and that you're the only one who's dealing with this situation. That's where the support and healing of a DivorceCare group can really help. While each situation is truly unique, in a DivorceCare group, you'll discover that there are others who understand what you are going through. You'll learn helpful, practical information that will help you recover from your divorce. You'll have the chance to talk about your experiences. It can be very healing to tell others what you are going through. The support group sessions include a time to talk about what you've seen on the DivorceCare videos and what is going on in your life. And while you have the opportunity to tell your story, there's never pressure for you to do so if you don't feel like it.

Usually, we hold DivorceCare meetings on Tuesday nights in the Community Center. This year will be different. The group will meet 'virtually,' so if you were worried about finding a sitter for the kids, or if you don't like to drive at night, problem solved! You can just click on a link and gather with folks who are working through the same processes that you are.

Some of the topics covered are Facing My Lonliness, KidCare, Financial Survival, and The Road to Healing. Each gathering includes a video with experts as well as several case studies of folks who are dealing with some of the same things you are. There's a workbook you can purchase for $20, and scholarships are available. There's even a daily email you can sign up for to help move you through some of the feelings you're having.

So if this sounds like something that you would benefit from, I hope you'll sign up. The sessions start on Tuesday, September 1 and runs from 7-9pm. The last session is scheduled for December 15. To sign up of get more info, visit https://www.stfrancisra-leigh.org/divorce-care/

If groups just aren't your thing, I hope you'll consider requesting a Stephen Minister. For more information, contact Kathleen.Owen@stfrancisraleigh.org or call 919-847-8205x241.

EDUCATION MINISTRIES

Career Driven

Mike Watson, Principal

As parents and school leaders, we often tell the youth that they have to plan for their future. But they're not alone. TFS faculty and staff work alongside students to prepare them for high school, college, their profession, and to become overall extraordinary people. It's essential that our student's foundations are rooted in the Franciscan teachings and faith. From kindergarten through to the 8th grade, we watch students transform. They enter as wide-eyed, innocent children, and graduate as passionate young adults who desire to know God for themselves. "The pursuit of wisdom, which comes from knowing God, encountered through discovery and exploration, inquiry and examination embody what it means to be The Franciscan School," says Principal Mike Watson. Our students form a personal relationship with God, ensuring they are not afraid of new challenges as alumni. We're continuously amazed at their success and ability to take risks by being anchored in their faith. We are proud that our alumni have the skill, knowledge, and compassion to reach their academic and personal goals.

We understand that students' experiences outside the classroom are just as impactful as those they gain inside the school walls. Students participate in school-wide projects, introducing them to social change, and planting the seeds of service that they continue to sow as alumni. We nurture feelings of empathy, inspiring them to embrace those who are different. TFS alumni often pursue a career or a cause that allows them to help other people. Many of those careers that allow them to help others are in the STEM fields.

Science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) are now at the center of many new careers and opportunities. With this knowledge, the TFS curriculum "utilizes technology to connect learning points and develop the skills needed to complete assignments." TFS alumni are students and professionals embarking upon careers in STEM, driven by their faith and love for the community.

Many of our alumni now have careers and majors in various STEM fields, such as 2013 alumni, Branden Hawkins. Branden recently graduated from NC State with a bachelor's in Material Science and Engineering. He earned his degree in only three years while maintaining a 4.0 GPA. He left his mark on the campus, completing his studies as both the Summa Cum Laude and Valedictorian. As Branden prepares to start his career at Cree, Inc. this summer, he credits TFS for sparking his interest in science and technology. "Taking science and math courses [at TFS] were important in building my curiosity about the way things work and our methods to describe and understand them. Competing in the science fair helped even more; I did a project examining the soundproofing properties of different materials, and now I am a materials engineer!"

In celebrating our most recent graduating class, it's exciting knowing that this is only the beginning of their journey.

"My advice to the graduating 8th-grade class is to remember to share your gifts with others – time, talent and treasure are all valuable things that will not only make a difference in our lives but also the lives of those around us," said Branden. "I was told by my 7th-grade social studies teacher Mrs. Putman [that] 'to whom much is given, much is expected.' I have tried to live this statement by using my gifts responsibly to help others as best I can."

If our alumni are an example of what lies ahead for our recent graduates, we know they will excel. Read more about our most recent alumni, and learn how the TFS experience has prepared them to embark upon their next chapter.

Please visit our website at www.francis-canschool.org or contact Principal Mike Watson at mike.watson@franciscan-school.org to find out more and to get insight into the community of excellence we have built here over the past two decades!

Little Hands - Big Skills

"Know this, my beloved brothers: let every person be quick to hear, slow to speak, slow to anger;" James 1:19

Since the pandemic first started, I, like many others, have been part of many virtual meetings and conversations. One thing that I find interesting about some virtual meetings is that as part of the chat function, there is often an icon of a hand or something similar that can be used to indicate a desire to speak. I have frequently wondered if the person who thought to add this was a teacher! We have all partaken in conversations/ meetings, in our professional or daily lives, where people have a difficult time waiting for their turn to talk. For whatever reason, they interrupt a speaker, talk over a speaker, or just have to make sure that they have the final word in any conversation. Needless to say, it can be very difficult to accomplish things or share different ideas with someone like this. When you can't get a word in edgewise, it makes it very hard to stay involved in the conversation or even feel as though vour words matter.

Ensuring that children feel respected and that they know that everyone's ideas have merit is part of some of the social-emotional teaching that occurs in preschool. This often begins with teaching children how to raise their hand as a signal that they have something to share. For little ones, this is often one of their first introductions to realizing that there are other little people like them who have ideas and questions too. Learning to listen to others' ideas helps our preschoolers begin to develop a number of socialemotional skills, including patience, respect, and perspective-taking. Waiting, particularly when they are very excited to share ideas, can be very hard for young children. As with social-emotional skills, preschool also offers children countless opportunities to practice self-regulation and attending, not only in play but in their conversations as well. Success in learning is largely dependent of how well we are able to listen to others and absorb their message.

Sometimes I think that maybe we would have more tolerance, more collaboration, more understanding, and more positivity in our world, if we all had had an early opportunity to practice listening to each other. Maybe we would find more mutual respect and less judgement if the ability to listen to others was nurtured in everyone like it is in preschool.

May we continue to look to God to assist us in moments when we are not patient or respectful in our daily listening. Let us continue to ask God to help us be good models of listening. Even when waiting to share our ideas in a conversation seems impossible, God will always be there to help and guide us!

To learn more about becoming part of our incredible preschool family and the opportunities we provide, please visit our website at www.preschoolatstfrancis.com or contact Shelley Freeman at: shelley.freeman@stfrancisraleigh.org.

Caring Casseroles

There is always a need for Caring Casseroles! If you can, please consider dropping off according to the schedule below.

Caring Casseroles don't have to be casseroles. They can also be side dishes, soup, stew, chili, grilled chicken, or cooked burgers or pizza slices. Labels should include all ingredients or better yet, include the recipe. If you make a meal that meets specific dietary restrictions (low sodium, gluten free, etc.) please mark it that way--it helps the volunteers distribute meals appropriately.

Though we appreciate everything our cooks do, we DO NOT NEED ANY PASTA dishes at this time.

Volunteer Opportunities

To all our volunteers:

Here are a few ways you could help members of our parish:

Caring Connections Ministry

If you'd like to get to know more members of our community, consider joining our Caring Connections Ministry. Sign up to make check in calls to parishioners, send birthday cards or deliver meals. Also, if you would like to receive care, just let us know how to help. To sign up, please visit https://www. stfrancisraleigh.org/offer-or-receive-help/

FaceTime and Zoom

If you'd like to learn how to use FaceTime or Zoom or be connected to watch our daily and Sunday programs, or if you'd like to teach someone over the phone, please visit our https://www.stfrancisraleigh.org/offer-or-receive-help/

Cards and Artwork

If you'd like to send or receive cards to/from fellow parishioners and establish a connection with other folks who are sheltering in place, or if you have kids who would love to send their artwork to brighten someone's day or if you'd like to receive some artwork, visit https://www.stfrancisraleigh. org/offer-or-receive-help/

Make a Meal and Deliver Groceries

If you would like to make a meal or help deliver groceries to those in need, please visit: https://www.stfrancisraleigh.org/ offer-or-receive-help/

Making a Call

The Parish Life staff is calling parishioners to make sure they are safe and aware of several ministry opportunities during the COVID-19 crisis. If you haven't gotten your call, stay tuned. If you need help or want to offer help, check out our link at https://www.stfrancisraleigh.org/offer-or-receivehelp/

We will match up needs with offers of help. Currently, it seems most folks are handling the daily changes well, but that may change over the coming weeks. Please reach out if you need to talk, need some help or just want to hear a cheerful voice! St. Francis of Assisi is here for our parishioners.

Thank vou!

All of our Parish Life Ministries and the Community Center would like to thank you for serving the St. Francis Community. At this time all other volunteer opportunities are suspended until it is safe for us to come together again. Please check your weekly bulletin for updates. Stay well.

The Eye of God

By Fr. Mark Haydu, LC

The Book of Romans meditates on a truth we sometimes neglect but that has inspired many artists. Creation longs to share in the freedom of God's kingdom. Sin has affected nature, so salvation will also set it free from corruption. What would a glorified planet look like? Charles Burchfield, a nature painter, tried to imagine just that.

He painted thousands of scenes from his bedroom in Salem, OH. He became obsessed with dramatizing landscapes and was known to sketch as he walked to and from school. His love and meditations didn't keep him

Matthew 13:1-23 or 13:1-9

[Jesus said,] "Whoever has ears ought to hear."

from entering the army, but given his gifts, he was assigned to the camouflage unit, using his skills to paint tanks and drapery. Some of his designs are still used today.

What Burchfield discovered was that a pristine nature scene was a divine image. The forms, the colors, the patterns were all created by God and guided by his providence. By painting these scenes, one was truly touching the hand of God and entering into his mind. His painting Eye of God in the Woods illustrates the eye of God in a sun that pierces through the trees of a snowy forest with a rolling brook

God speaks in nature motifs. Scripture is full of them. Jesus also used nature as a model for his teachings: seeds sown in different soils, clouds predicting rain, a sparrow, a catch of fish.

Nature is a glorious soil from which inspiration can sprout. This week, meditate and marvel at the beauty of creation and, like Jesus, take lessons from it for your spiritual life. +

Jesus used nature for teaching: seeds sown in different soils, clouds predicting rain, a catch of fish.

A Word from Pope Francis

Every worker...should have the right to decent remuneration, to social security, and to a pension. Among you here are... workers in grassroots jobs who are excluded from labor rights, who are denied the possibility of unionizing, whose income is neither adequate nor stable. Today I...join my voice to yours and support you in your struggle.

- How often do I spend time outdoors enjoying nature?
- What messages from God can I find in the natural world today?

Finding Meaning in Our Pain

By Richard Rohr, OFM

A ll religion is about transforming pain and what to do with that pain—the absurd, tragic, unjust experiences that make up our lives. The hurts, disappointments, and betrayals; the burdens of sinfulness and brokenness pile up throughout life. We must find a way to make our pain into sacred wounds. We must find a way to give meaning to our hurts and find God in that suffering. Our faith is a gift that helps us deal with life's tragedies.

Throughout history, literature has idealized people at the top: presidents and leaders who hold power and control the system. But biblical revelation turns history upside down with empathy for victims. It idealizes the bottom. It says that true power is not focused at the top. Then Jesus comes to epitomize that message by becoming poor, naked, and expelled—the one who teaches us that the way down is really the way up.

Our lesson is that we need to stop looking for meaning at the top and, instead, go to the edges and the bottom where we find those excluded and expelled. By his life and teaching, Jesus reminds us that we have to be rejected. We have to experience being on the outside before we have something to say.

This is the gift of biblical revelation. It's why we're the only religion that worships the victim, the one considered the problem by religious authorities.

God of Surprises

When Christians call Jesus the Lord of history—this bleeding, naked, crucified man—we are turning history around! We may not realize how scandalous and silly this seems to others. But when you think about it, the crucified Jesus is an unlikely candidate for God

But this is the very Jesus who, through his teaching and life, reminds us to be careful where we look for God. Expect to find God in unexpected places, he tells us. And so it is in all of history: It has been the excluded ones and people at the bottom who have the privileged viewpoint. Why? Because it is from that position that we meet God, that we understand the illusion and lies of a system built on power, prestige, possessions. But until all that is taken from us, we don't know that. Until then we are simply playing the game, enjoying the fruits of the system.

Recall how Jesus sends his disciples to preach from a position of vulnerability. "Go out, take nothing for your journey," he tells them. Why? Because he knows they're going to fail and look like fools. They have to or they won't have a message to deliver.

Hard Truths

It's an initiation of sorts: Jesus sends his disciples into situations where people are going to laugh at them and consider them nobodies. Only when you are a nobody will you understand what it means to be somebody. That is when you will find your life on new ground. We call it the reign of God.

The Bible begins with a fall for a reason. The story of Adam and Eve is a microcosm of what will happen in every life. You and I will fall. Somewhere we will experience our own absurdity, our utter brokenness. This reality isn't something to hold off; it's a necessary, tragic, and beautiful part of the journey.

The answer to our pain is the Jesus who was rejected, betrayed, and abandoned; then hanged on a cross, bleeding and naked. The answer to our pain is the risen Christ, who reminds us that through pain we have new life. +

Lord, you completed God's work on earth. Help me know and accomplish God's will.

From Faithful Meditations for Every Day in Ordinary Time, Rev. Warren J. Savage and Mary Ann McSweeny
